

Talent & Workforce Development

Educators in the Workplace
Exclusively for Durham Public Schools Teachers & Counselors, grades 6-12

Educators in the Workplace is a program that encourages teachers and counselors to visit local companies to learn about careers available to their students. The visits also bring real world relevance into classroom discussions. Participating educators can earn continuing education credits.

Businesses are invited to host a group of educators for 2-4 hours – one time – at their location.
